WE'VE PARTNERED WITH LEADING ORGANIZATIONS IN EDUCATION TO DEVELOP THINKFINITY RESOURCES.

WE'RE AFFILIATED WITH A SPECTRUM OF PROMINENT ORGANIZATIONS COMMITTED TO EDUCATION.

Let's talk about improving education

Funded by the Verizon Foundation, Thinkfinity.org is a free educational website for teachers, students and parents. This award-winning site offers tens of thousands of lesson plans, interactive tools and games, all developed by leading organizations in education.

All of Thinkfinity's learning resources and our training programs are FREE. There's never a cost. There's no long-term commitment or subscription. We provide the education community with resources that will energize teaching and learning.

The Growing Thinkfinity Community

Our FREE online community gives teachers, administrators and parents the opportunity to collaborate, connect and share resources and best practices. The Thinkfinity Community also offers great ideas from our content partners on how to reach your educational goals.

Verizon's Commitment to Education

The Verizon Foundation, the philanthropic arm of Verizon Communications, Inc., has contributed more than $35.5 million to advancing education and literacy, making us the seventh largest investor in K-12 education among U.S. corporations. Through Thinkfinity.org we are supporting educator effectiveness and working to improve student achievement.

Resources Aligned with Standards

Thinkfinity Partner-created resources are aligned to state and national standards, so educators can always find the right instructional materials. Just use Thinkfinity's State Standards Search and enter the state, the grade level and subject area.

Free professional development webinars help educators, administrators, and parents make the most of the resources available. For a full and updated list, visit www.thinkfinity.org/webinars

Free downloadable materials about Thinkfinity are always available at www.thinkfinity.org/media-center.
